The Soul Bigfoot is one of the most popular “high performance” short and wide boards in the range among intermediate and advanced surfers.

This board is used up to 4 inches shorter than usual and is also wider and with less rocker than a traditional shortboard. It features a wing towards the tail ending in a diamond tail, which shortens the rail and makes the board feel looser. Medium depth concaves, with single to double concave, with full rails to give the board the volume it needs.

The board accelerates quickly and maintains speed in turns, allowing you to link maneuvers effortlessly. Generally, this board is used by intermediate or advanced surfers in small to medium waves.

Sizes range from 5'6 to 6'4.

The Soul TNT is a high-performance board for small waves. A flat rocker with a lifted curve in the rail gives speed and looseness to the back of the board.

A chunky outline combined with a wide round squash tail allows for fast rail-to-rail surfing. This combination becomes so magical that it is a model used in competitions by good surfers.

Designed to be used 3 inches shorter than your height.

The Soul Delocos model is a surfboard with a wide fish-style tail but designed with a round square tail.

The board's design features a low to medium nose rocker, medium to low tail rocker with a deep single concave right in the tail area.

The rail is low and soft combined with a slightly flatter deck. We have added a 5-fin system to create different sensations when ridden as a thruster or quad. It is very fast on the wave and goes vertical, maintaining speed in tight turns and takes off very well.

Sizes range from 5'7 to 6'4.

The perfect board for smaller, weaker waves. Whether you come from longboards or shortboards, this model will make you feel like you have a flying carpet under your feet. Flat rocker in the nose and a good rocker in the tail for tight turns without losing speed in maneuvers.

Much of its secret lies in the combination of the bottom and rails. It can be used as a triffin for the more radical surfers or as a quad for extra grip and security. "A good option for this model is to make the tail in swallow as it will reduce some nervousness when doing more powerful surfing, as well as adding a fifth stabilizer fin to the quad."

The Soul Alchemist has been one of the best-selling small wave boards since its introduction to the product line. This high-performance board is ridden 2" to 3" shorter and 3/4" to 1" wider than a conventional shortboard.

There is extra area in the nose to help you paddle into smaller waves as well as those weak sections. Its double winger decreases the width in the tail and provides a pivot point for top-to-bottom surfing.

The Soul Alchemist is the perfect balance between a small wave board and a high-performance shortboard.

ALLROUND

This model has been designed to deliver high performance, making it ideal for surfers looking to improve their paddling and stability without sacrificing quick response in all types of maneuvers.

Thanks to its innovative bottom design, the board generates incredible speed, accelerating even when the rail is fully submerged during tight turns or demanding maneuvers.

Its generous outline, combined with a medium rocker and high-performance rails, provides an immersive experience in every session, ensuring control and versatility.

If you're looking for a unique board that adapts to a variety of conditions and surfing styles, this model is undoubtedly one of your best options.

The design came from widening the outline of a contemporary shortboard, resulting in a very fast planing speed. The low nose rocker provides acceleration and ease of paddling, while the performance-style tail rocker allows the board to go vertical and agile when needed.

It has a single concave throughout the board with a decent double concave under the back foot, making it easy to go from rail to rail.

The Soul Mutant is best described as a 'high-performance hybrid' and should be ridden at least two inches shorter than your standard high-performance shortboard.

The Soul Bull Head is designed for surfing in all types of conditions with a retro style shape but high performance in waves from 2 to 5 feet. The more rounded nose shape with a wide rounded tail facilitates good glide when paddling for an easy takeoff and transition to standing. Somehow, it remains a performance board with easy speed down the line, flows well in turns, and is great for roundhouse cutbacks and off-the-top turns. It can be surfed in a relaxed style or surfed hard with power turns. It works well in beach, point, and reef breaks.

The nose area and the tail area are similar to a high-performance shortboard. It has a single to double concave with low rocker in the nose and medium rocker in the tail. The rails are slightly thicker, with a beak-style nose and a slightly thicker tail.

Soul The Magnet was created after working with our Portuguese rider team on a new board that maintained high performance in average conditions.

The Magnet has a wide outline and more volume than a standard board, subtly hidden throughout.

The bottom goes from a slight concave to a double concave, helping The Magnet surf in average conditions, which will be most days...

But you can also use it on those perfect, larger days... It's a true all-rounder. It comes with a three-fin setup but can be ordered with five plugs.

This model comes with a standard round square tail but can also be ordered with a round or swallow tail.

The Soul Zero retains all the elements of the Zero range, with a low rocker that makes it glide like a dream, with a slight increase in nose rocker and sharpening for quick direction changes, especially in the curvier sections of small waves.

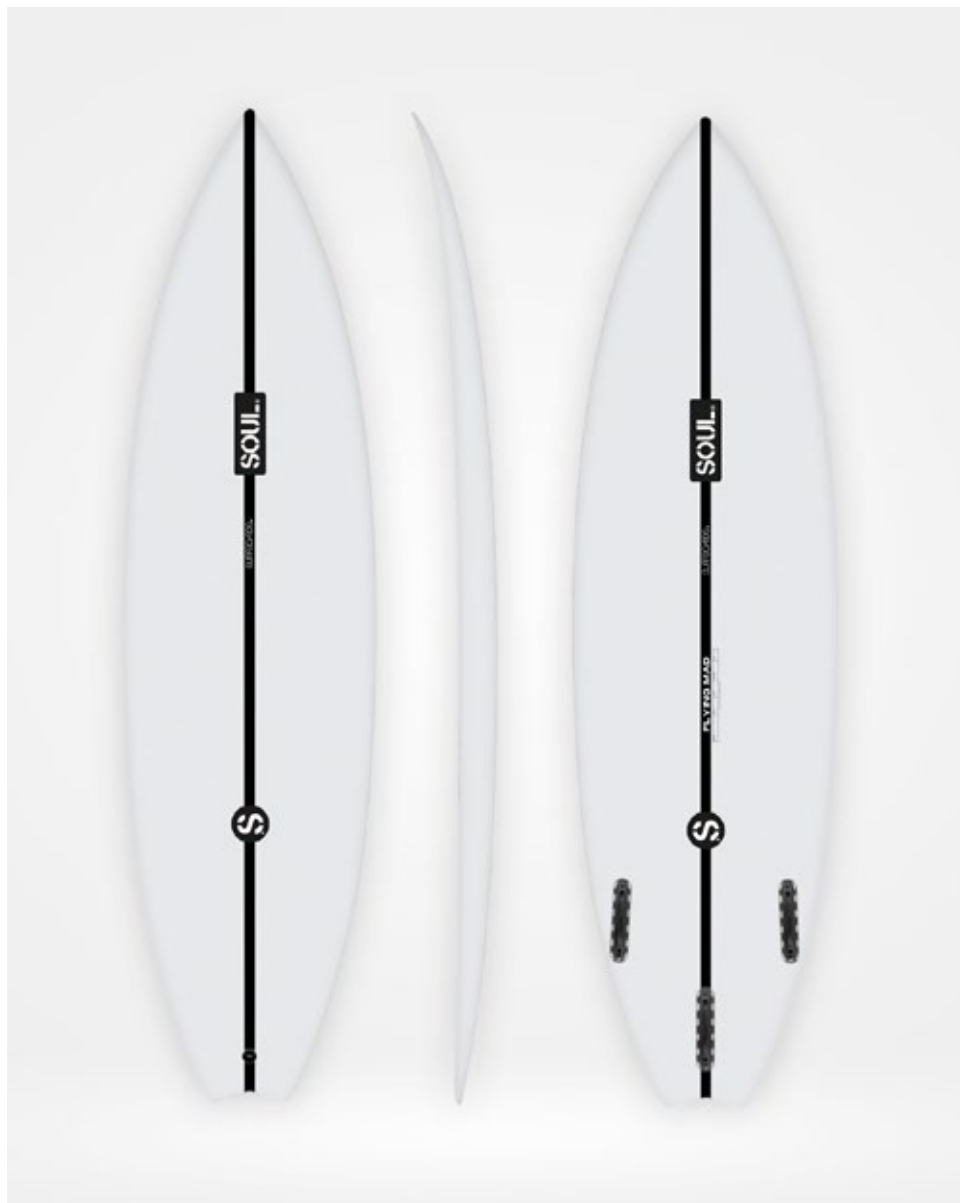

One of the main design changes is a single concave ending in a V in the swallow tail, making it quite versatile in more powerful sections while maintaining maneuverability. This is also due to its central rocker line, for which the Zero range is known. It has a generous volume distribution throughout the deck, ending in a slightly tapered rail that forgives mistakes while providing sensitivity and directional control, essential for surfing small and hollow waves.

PERFORMANCE

Soul Flying Mad is a modern performance shortboard with a hip in its outline near the tail. Its medium to low rails provide control and speed through directional changes. This model loves the swallowtail, which, combined with its large and deep single to double concave under your feet, gives you the speed and power to fly.

Rolled deck to accommodate more foam for flotation in the middle – Straighter outline due to the hip to generate speed – Large and deep concaves for grip and maximum drive and push

Seeing the push of global competition to surf at full performance in all kinds of conditions, we have utilized the best parts of our performance shortboards with some key outline curves of our small wave boards to make the Soul The Challenger our new high-performance all-rounder.

Push it hard and it will hold, with extra tail rocker to go from rail to rail with ease. A wider outline and a bit more foam in the front make it one of our favorites.

The Challenger is suitable for all levels of surfers as a true all-rounder.

This is one of the models we have spent the most time developing in terms of design because we wanted to combine comfort, versatility, and performance.

A board with a slightly wider outline than a conventional shortboard and a forward wide point. A moderate rocker starting from the center helps with paddling and planing, generating good speed, combined with a kick tail (rocker at the tail) providing maneuverability and verticality in turns.

The volume is well-distributed throughout the board but without excess, allowing early wave entry, combined with a medium rail for the necessary grip to perform good maneuvers.

Suitable for intermediate to advanced surfers and all types of conditions.

A black and white photograph of a beach scene. In the lower-left foreground, a person is lying on their back on the sand, with a surfboard resting on their chest. The sand is textured with footprints and shadows. To the right, the ocean waves are breaking, creating a white, foamy texture. A large, dark, out-of-focus shadow, likely from a palm tree, stretches diagonally across the upper half of the image. The text "TWIN FIN" is overlaid in the center in a bold, white, sans-serif font.

TWIN FIN

Versatility, comfort, and flow are the three words that best define the spirit of this model. At first glance, it may resemble a beginner-friendly board—and that's no coincidence. Its dimensions make it a perfect ally for surfers looking to progress and build confidence session after session.

But don't be fooled. If you're an experienced surfer, this shape will still surprise you. The medium rocker, a single concave flowing into a double concave between the fins, the round pin tail, and well-balanced rails all come together to deliver a unique feeling: a freer, more playful ride with a smooth flow that hooks you from the very first wave.

Available in thruster or twin fin setups, depending on whether you're after control and precision or a looser, more radical carving style.

This model adapts to all skill levels and a wide range of conditions, making it a must-have board for surfers who want to enjoy more—and better—surfing without unnecessary complications.

The Soul Big Fish is one of those boards designed to enjoy surfing without needing to be a pro or anything like it.

A board with a lot of volume and great paddling power, it will help you catch many waves until your arms say enough. Its medium rocker, combined with its bottom configuration that goes from a single concave to a double concave and ending in a Vee, will make passing sections and pivoting with ease child's play.

It is an ideal board both for advanced surfers who want a comfortable and fun board and for those with a lower level who want to have fun without worrying about technique.

Low rocker, flat deck to maintain the maximum foam under your feet combined with a Vee in the tail area to give you the maneuverability you need. You can surf it as a twin or quad as it will deliver all its potential in both combinations.

Decorate it with all the extras you like and turn it into a real gem: pigmented resins, polished finishes, etc.

With the Soul Budha model, we aimed to create a livelier feel than a retro fish by incorporating aspects of a high-performance modern surfboard. We took the “Retro” fish, thinned out the rails, which gave us grip for harder and faster turns, changed the rocker for a more modern performance feel, while maintaining the flat deck for paddling advantages.

The bottom features a shallow single to double concave ending with a Vee in the rear. The result is a board ideal for high-performance rail-to-rail surfing at high speeds. The low rail allows the board to roll on the rail without struggling to maintain control and provides tons of drive.

The Soul Surfboards Budha is not your typical “Retro”; it’s a high-performance surfboard with the positive aspects of a Retro fish design. This board will make you eager to get out there every day in a variety of conditions. Budha is the perfect summer board for your local beachie, and it performs well in point breaks too. Designed to be surfed as a Twin Fin.

SPECIAL

Probably one of the most practical models in our catalog, the Soul Evolution model is a staple and a key piece in every surfer's evolution.

Who hasn't had one at some point?

With this model, surfing becomes easy and fun since it offers good paddling to get into the wave quickly, its width gives us stability for a good takeoff, and its curve generates enough speed to flow on the wave without having to put in too much effort.

Evolving from the minimalibu, the Evolution model has a narrower, more pointed nose that provides an additional step when starting to link turns and can be used on waves with a bit more verticality in the wall.

Although it has always been a model associated with learning, in the hands of experienced surfers, this model will offer you an extra edge when the peak is more crowded than usual or to bring out all your flow in long rides.

GO BIG

The Soul Big Step offers you the possibility of using a shorter and more maneuverable board in larger waves. With this model, we added width in the nose and more volume towards the front to compensate for the shorter length.

We recommend going 1 to 3 feet shorter than your typical Gun while adding 1/2" to the width and 1/2" to the thickness. With the combination of a wider nose, a thicker volume flow, and a smooth entry rocker, this model will take you to almost everything the ocean has to offer. By going shorter, the Soul Big Step allows the surfer to maneuver their board, unlike the large Guns of the past that only allowed surfers to make the drop. We recommend opting for a quad fin setup to offer the fastest fin configuration possible. This will help in the tube, overcome large sections, and maneuver the board well in larger sizes.

Available sizes range from 6'4" to 7'10".

Following the results achieved by its predecessor, we have developed a variant for all those surfers who love these types of waves but are no longer in their best physical condition while maintaining their technique intact. The width has been increased slightly from the central part towards the nose, achieving extra flotation without having to increase the size.

The result is a machine for catching the best waves of the day, allowing you to paddle from farther out. Coming from the area where the wave is still “round” with speed, you can stand up earlier and gain that extra advantage you need, lose fewer waves, pass more sections, and enter the barrels more securely.

The Soul Sunset model has extra volume under the chest, with an inverted V in the front and a V in the tail to combat the wind and late drops. There is a subtle concave through the belly to reduce speed, and the rails are not too full to allow sensitivity within the barrel. The round pin and thinner tail give you deeper grip in the barrel. This board is a reliable beast and holds the line well.

This incredible board has been specially crafted for those taking their first steps into longboarding. With sizes ranging from 9.0 to 9.6 feet, it is perfect for those seeking ease without sacrificing performance.

One of its standout features is the hard-edged rails at the upper part of the tail. This design not only provides extra grip when turning but also works in harmony with the V-bottom and a slight belly in the center— a master touch that enhances maneuverability. Thanks to this, the board glides smoothly, making both tight and wide turns feel effortless and fluid.

You'll experience the sensation of riding waves with renewed confidence.

Another key detail is the kick tail, combined with the hard-edged rails on the upper section and a soft drop-shaped concave at the nose. This allows for a stable start when walking toward the nose, ensuring grip and control, helping you gain full confidence as you take your first steps toward noseriding.

Finally, the V-bottom at the rear of the board is a design highlight that further enhances maneuverability. It allows for fluid movement, making turns sharper and navigation more agile. This way, you can enjoy the feeling of gliding over the waves with ease and confidence.

In summary, this longboard is an exceptional choice for those embarking on their journey into classic surfing. “The masterpiece of our catalog if you’re looking for the ultimate noseriding experience.”

A board designed to take you to the nose without losing an ounce of control over the tail—just step up and let it glide.

This model is slightly wider and more parallel than usual, providing extra paddle power for those smaller conditions.

Its upturned rails towards the upper part of the tail offer additional control, perfectly combined with a smooth Moon Tail and a pronounced concave drop on the underside of the nose. This design helps channel water efficiently and lifts the nose as if you were riding an elevator, maintaining speed effortlessly through both flat and steep sections.

The most surprising aspect of this model is its perfect symbiosis.

The combination of the Moon Tail, Belly Bottom, and rail shape makes it highly maneuverable—despite what you might initially think.

It performs across a wide range of conditions, from minimal waves to more critical sections, thanks to its innovative design.

Without a doubt, this beast is the longboard every classic surf enthusiast should have in their quiver, and all the tests back it up.

Once you try it, you won’t want another longboard.

It’s here to stay!
